Re: Postmaster General 10-year plan

I am sending notice that I strongly oppose the proposed 10-Year Plan. It seems like DeJoy would dismantle our USPS if he could. The Post Office does so much more than simply 'deliver the mail.' We must support this institution, not destroy it.

The USPS has been burdened by some future pension funding requirement. I admit that I never completely understood that policy/rule, but what I heard sounded like a dumb idea. Weaken our postal service- and allow Fed-Ex, UPS etc.. will sweep in to profit. Please do not make things worse.

As a United States citizen, I lived in Germany for two years and relied on the Post Office for correspondence to and from the states. That provided a valuable connection to home for me.

Instead of 'pulling the rug out from under,' we should support the USPS to provide better service or additional services!

- o Some type of banking service; especially for folks who do not have traditional bank relationships. The government could undercut the 'payday loan sharks;' charge mere pennies and still profit!
- o Provide a secure internet connection for students or seniors who do not have a computer at home. Not everyone has a library or community center in their neighborhood.
- o Electrify the entire postal fleet! Mail trucks could charge at night- besides they'll be autonomous one day, making our mail carrier's burden lighter.
- o Consider more drastic measures. Maybe cut Saturday service for customers willing to participate in such a cost saving measure. (I would, especially for a greener environment and to support our post office.)

I believe that Louis DeJoy is the problem, not our postal service. I send my comment to urge you to defy the proposed 10-year plan. Get rid of DeJoy while you're at it.

With Respectful Thanks,
